Sermon Title: "Where's the Hope?"

Scripture: Luke 21:5-19

I have shared with you before about my son's tattoo where he had placed on his arm the passage from Philippians 1:3-4, "I thank my God every time I remember you. In all my prayers for all of you, I always pray with joy."

This passage of Scripture has come to mean a great deal to me in my life and in my ministry. I am thankful for my family, for my fellow pastors, for my friends, and for those who have touched my life even though they may have not known what they have done for me. And when I do remember them, I always try to follow Paul's advice from the Scripture above to thank God for those people and to do it joyfully because I believe all of those people are a gift from God.

As we enter this season of Thanksgiving, I would like to challenge all of us to be proactive in thanking God for those people who are in our lives that bring us not only joy but meaning. For us to truly do this, I believe we need to be more intentional in offering thanks to God for all that we have been blessed with beyond Thanksgiving Day and throughout each day of our lives. I was introduced to this by a friend who told me that we should always live our lives in the "spirit of Thanks-living." In other words, to live our lives each day, looking for reasons and opportunities to be thankful to God and to those special people that God has placed in our lives.

Brenda and I thank God for placing us here at Bascomb and we always pray with joy whenever we think of you. We also want to wish you and yours a very Happy Thanksgiving and a very special time of "Thanks-living" with your family and friends.
