John 15: 9-17 "Loving Friends"

This Sunday we will continue our focus on the Gospel of John looking at Jesus' teaching of love. In our passage, Jesus first told the disciples to remain in his love just as He had remained in the Father's love. Because if the disciples stayed in Jesus' love, they would have the Joy of Christ fulfilled in them.

Jesus then went a little further. He commanded the disciples to love one another as Jesus had loved them. Next, He introduced the idea of friendship to the disciples. Jesus spoke of the highest price of friendship by laying down one's life for their friends and then told the disciples that they were his friends. And if they wanted to remain Jesus' friends, then they were going to have to do everything He commanded.

Depending on one's perspective, it could really hard or really easy to friends with Jesus. Remain in love with Jesus so you could have a joy-filled life and all you have to do to stay in love with Jesus was to do everything thing He commanded. Whoa! We have to do everything that Jesus commanded in order to stay friends with Him. That's a mighty long list! Look throughout the four Gospels and see all the things He commanded the disciples and us to do. Where do we even start with such a long list?

Jesus told the disciples in our reading where to start. In verse 12, Jesus commanded the disciples to love one another just as Jesus had loved them. And if they didn't catch the reference there, the last verse of our reading has Jesus once again commanding the disciples to "Love each other."

So, if we start out by loving each other, what happens next? For Jesus, he was to continue his journey to the cross in Jerusalem so he could lay down his life for his friends past, present, and future. For us today, what happens next is up to us. I believe loving everyone who crosses our lives is the best place to start. What says you?
