Second Sunday of Advent

PEACE

December 8, 2024

Luke 3:2-6

“Healing through Peace”

If we treat people like Jesus did, we will have peace. This is the one thing I cannot stress more about our faith, than anything else. No matter how you look at it, if we all followed the examples we have of his life from the Bible, this world will be a better place. If we prioritize relationship over anything else, there would be no hurt. There would be no war, there would be no violence. In the season of advent, talking about peace on earth means living like Jesus. As we continue our journey of healing through advent, I encourage you to think through the things that you need to let God take care of. When we release those things, only then will we have true peace.
